

Until Jan. 1 Mr. King was campaign manager for Gen. Wood. He was then displaced by Col. William Cooper Proctor.

ter. Since then Mr. King has shown no anxiety to further the candidacy of Gen. Wood.

Senator Penrose and Mr. King are known to be great friends, and it has been reported that since the removal of Mr. King as the Wood campaign manager the Pennsylvania senator has been anything but friendly to the general.

Poetic Justice Seen.

There were those among the managers who saw considerable political significance in the fact that Senator Penrose, who, it now appears, will be unable to attend the convention on account of illness, has entrusted his proxy to Mr. King. They were inclined to believe that the senator was trying to establish Mr. King in a position of "poetic justice," enabling the rejected Wood manager to make things uncomfortable for his enemies in the Wood camp if he cares to do so.

There were others who saw in the offering of the proxy a coup which might bring a change in the Wood management at the last minute by a new deal which would restore King, clothed with the powers vested in him by Senator Penrose, and make him and Frank H. Hitchcock the real powers in the Wood organization.

Critical Day for Wood.

This is a critical day for the Wood campaign. Col. Proctor returned to Chicago from New York and resumed charge at the Wood headquarters. Gen. Wood himself is expected today. Tonight there is to be a conference of the Wood managers at which the future policies will be decided upon. It had been assumed that this conference would decide the final status of Hitchcock, but there are those who now believe it may also determine the future relations of the Wood candidacy with King, and through him with the Pennsylvania delegation.

Mr. King himself, who is known for his reticence, would throw no light on the situation.

Other arrivals of the day included the following national committeemen: John W. Hart, Idaho; M. J. Mulvihill, Mississippi; and Thomas A. Marlow of Montana.

Lafayette P. Gleason, temporary secretary of the convention, also arrived during the day.

Hamon Enters Lists.

Jacob L. Hamon of Oklahoma will be a presidential candidate himself. He was officially announced at Oklahoma headquarters at the Hotel La Salle. He is to be placed in nomination, the statement said, by former Congressman Elmer E. McGuffee of Oklahoma.

"He will have eighty votes on the first ballot from the west and south-west," the statement said.

Plans for the proposed caucus of the uninstructed and unpledged delegates, totaling more than 550 delegates, will be announced today. It is understood.

OPEN HEARINGS ON 137 CONTESTS TO START TODAY

Hays Promises Fair Deal for All.

For the first time in the history of the Republican party the contests over the seating of southern delegates will be thrashed out in the open.

Chairman Will H. Hays announced yesterday the national committee, on opening its session at the Coliseum this morning, would vote on the question of admitting the public to the hearings and that the vote probably would be in the affirmative. By the public, in this case, is meant newspaper and press association men and representatives of all the presidential candidates.

Chairman Hays will act as judge and the members of the committee will act as jury in making up this feature of the roll call of the convention. There are contests from fourteen states, involving 137 seats.

Negroes' Strength Broken.
There will be fewer Negroes in this convention than in any previous convention, it is stated. Slowly the Republican party is breaking the grip of the "black and tan" element on the party machinery and it is even predicted in some quarters that the next national election may see the south broken by the Republican nomination.

The whites are flocking into some of the southern states, particularly in the oil districts of Texas, and this is changing the political aspect of things. In Texas Col. E. H. R. Green and "Goose-neck" Johnson refused to recognize the MacGregor faction. Green is the son of the late H. H. Green. Both delegations are mixed and uninstructed. The fight is for control of the state party machinery.

Gov. Lowden and Gen. Wood are the chief candidates to be affected by these decisions. Harding and Johnson are claiming some of the delegates. Johnson is especially interested in Minnesota.

Too Many Delegates.
There is trouble in eleven states over delegations which exceed in number the convention call. Illinois, with its ten delegates at large, instead of eight, is typical of these.

The national committee will not attempt to settle these state differences and will not throw out any set of candidates. It is physically impossible to seat ten men in chairs provided for eight, but the committee probably will leave this problem to the state delegations. The delegates may take turns in sitting with the alternates.

The contest hearings will last until Thursday at least. They form the chief pre-convention activity. Attorneys will present and argue cases as in a court and many legal points and rules are involved.

List of Contests.
The contests are presented to the committee in legal briefs. Boiled down, they present this situation:

Alabama.—One seat only contested between Wood and anti-Wood factions.

Arkansas.—Four delegates at large and one delegate each from First and Fifth districts contested by the "illy white" and "black and tan" factions. Both sides uninstructed. Votes claimed by everybody.

Florida.—Three full sets of delegates contesting for the four seats at large and the four district votes. The contests are between the old Republican party organization, headed by George W. Bean and Daniel T. Gerow, which is for Wood; the element headed by E. C. Smith and H. L. Anderson, and a straight organization of white Republicans. The latter two factions' delegates are unpledged.

Georgia.—Fifteen of Georgia's seven delegates are being contested by the groups headed by Henry Lincoln Johnson of Atlanta and Roscoe Pickett of Jasper, Ga. Pickett's delegation is for Wood. The Johnson group is for Lowden. Testimony at Washington showed Pickett got $7,500 from the Wood fund and Johnson got $9,000 from the Lowden fund.

Louisiana.—A contest is on between the "old line Republicans" and the "illy whites" for the state's twelve seats. Delegations are uninstructed.

Minnesota.—Contest involving two votes in the Tenth Minnesota district. Both sides uninstructed.

Mississippi.—Two full sets of delegates and alternates were chosen to fight for the state's twelve votes. The "black and tan" crowd, headed by W. O. Ligon of Gloster, Miss., is for Wood. The "illy white" contestants, headed by M. J. Mulvihill of Vicksburg, Miss., are anti-Wood.

Missouri.—Two votes each in the fourth and fifth districts are involved in a factional dispute. In the Fourth district one convention selected John S. Boyer and John Albus as delegates and the other convention selected Clarence U. Philley and Luster C. Cottrill as delegates. Philley and Cottrill are Wood delegates. Boyer and Albus are uninstructed. In the Fifth district sixteen wards in Kansas City and seven townships outside of Kansas City are involved. Two elements in the Republican party participated in the primary campaign. One is called the Marks element and the other the anti-Marks.

Each selected delegates and alternates to the national Republican convention.

North Carolina.—The contest for the state's twenty-two seats is brought by an organization of colored electors headed by S. H. Vick and C. E. Askew against the "illy white Republican voters of North Carolina." The Morehead delegation is for Senator Pritchard. The Vick delegation is anti-Pritchard.

Oklahoma.—The seating of L. G. Dinsey and G. O. Grant of the Second district is protested by M. A. Wade and W. H. Twine. Wade and Twine are Wood delegates. In the Fourth district R. B. Keenan and Ewers White lay claim to the seats of Dr. Hugh Scott and Albert Kelly. Keenan and White are for Wood. In the Fifth district W. H. P. Trudgeon and Christopher Malden dispute the seating of Seymour Price and Frederick Reed. Price and Reed are for Wood. The other delegates are Jake Hamon's men, who are uninstructed.

South Carolina.—Two factions claim the seats of the eleven delegates. The Joseph W. Tolbert delegate is anti-Wood. The J. Duncan Adams delegate is for Wood.

Tennessee.—In the Sixth, or Nashville district, J. C. R. McCall disputes the seating of Harry A. Luck, and in the Tenth, or Memphis district, Charles B. Quinn would displace Robert H. Church. McCall and Quinn are for Wood. Luck is for Lowden. In the Tenth district the situation is much the same.

Texas.—The entire delegation of Texas, twenty-three seats, is involved in the contest between the faction headed by Col. E. H. R. Green and the Col. H. F. MacGregor crowd. The Green delegates bolted and held a convention of their own. Both sides uninstructed.

Virginia.—The contest for fifteen seats is between the "illy Whites" and the "Black and Tans." The first named faction is headed by Representative C. B. Slomp; the other by Dr. J. H. Bugg of Lynchburg. The Slomp delegate is for Lowden. The Bugg delegate is for Wood.

District of Columbia.—Three factions are fighting for the two delegates.

HEARD ON PRESIDENTIAL ROW

A streak of "greased lightning" struck the Sunday doze along Presidential row yesterday. It was Will Hays, the young chairman of the Republican national committee, making a call.

"My name is Hays," he said, "dashing into Lowden headquarters. 'Just stopped to say hello. Goodbye.' 'Wait until we get somebody,' said the young woman in charge. 'Just hurrying through. Never mind now.'"

There was one busy typist in the Harding headquarters. "Have to get a hustle on," said the chairman, shaking hands. "A clerk was in charge of Wood of ices. "I'm a Democrat—my name is Hays," said the chairman. "Glad to see you. Sit down. 'Can't do it—goodbye.'"

He passed by the headquarters of Gov. Edwards and stopped in at the Hoover offices. "Shook hands with the woman in charge and left. Dashing across the tunnel, streaking it up the stairs, he found the two sons of Senator Johnson on the job at that big and busy headquarters. A booster meeting was in progress.

Mr. Hays looks well and is brimming over with enthusiasm. He is "job-assed," he says, with the necessity of electing a Republican president. He leaves a trail of ginger wherever he goes. This was the statement he made for publication.

"It looks here today like the middle of convention week. The interest, the crowds of enthusiastic Republicans already arrived, indicate the nationwide party vigor and enthusiasm. 'Everywhere Republicans are ready to go.' The unprecedented confidence in Republican success which obtains everywhere is simply the reflection of the realization of the necessity for such success as a matter of national welfare. Everywhere is the appreciation of the fact that we have a task to perform worthy of our party strength and party history."

that we have a patriotic work to do that is epoch making, and that upon our performance will largely depend the future of the country. The chronicler of centuries to come will look backward at these now approaching years as of the most tremendous importance in the development of American policy—and it is the Republican party that is to direct that development. Nothing shall lessen the certainty of this Republican success. Nothing shall decrease the certainty of our doing well that which we are certainly about to be called upon to accomplish. We have a work to do for the good of the country, and it takes us all to do it."

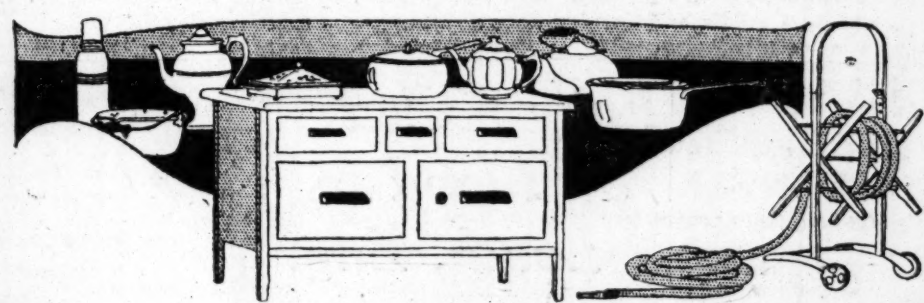

Official returns from the primary elections in which Senator Johnson was a candidate show that his total vote in eleven states was 859,885. The total vote of his leading opponent was 513,835. Geographically these states form an irregular line across the continent. Johnson headquarters point out. The Illinois "write in" is called the most remarkable recorded demonstration in the history of American politics. Republican success in doubtful states will be assured, it is pointed out, with Johnson as leader.

John Francis Neelan, publisher of the San Francisco Call, arrived in Chicago yesterday. He said the west was solid behind Johnson. The personnel of the California delegation, he said, was a cross section of society. He told of Johnson's great performance as governor.

H. D. Manning, manager of Harding headquarters, left for Columbus yesterday to confer with Senator Harding. He said before his departure: "Harding's prospects were never brighter. There is an unmistakable trend toward him. In former Gov. Willis he will have a champion whose voice will be heard in the farthest recesses of the Coliseum, and he will set forth claims that cannot be ignored."

HONOR HEROES OF MANY RACES BUT OF ONE U. S.

100,000 Participate in Memorial Services.

Three large celebrations marked the observance of Memorial day in Chicago yesterday. The number of those who attended and participated is estimated at 100,000, while approximately 10,000 more attended a number of smaller meetings.

The largest event took place in Humboldt park, where 60,000 Poles gathered to pay tribute to their relatives and friends who died for the freedom of the United States and the newly created republic of Poland. Thousands of Poles, veterans of the late war, members of societies, Boy Scouts, and women's organizations in Polish national costumes took part in the parade which preceded the meeting.

Twenty thousand persons attended services in the Bohemian National cemetery during the morning.

Services in Grant Park. Five thousand men, women, and children stood with bowed heads before three symbolic graves in Grant park at Van Buren street. Most impressive of all were the 300 gold star mothers, many of whom wept silently as Capt. John M. O'Donnell, captain of the 124th infantry, gave the invocation.

The program was given by the Chicago memorial service. Lieut. Col. No. 104th infantry. Besides the gold star mothers, the G. A. R. veterans of the Spanish-American war, and the American Legion were represented.

Maj. Gen. George Bell Jr., the Rev. John Timothy Stone, Col. George H. Davis of the Salvation Army, and Dr. Charles O. Brown of the U. S. Grant post, G. A. R., spoke.

"We can best honor those who died in this last war by helping those they left behind," Gen. Bell said. "The wives, mothers, sisters, and sweethearts of those who made the supreme sacrifice gave their all when these heroes died. They should reap the rewards."

Gov. Lowden Reviews Parade. Gov. Lowden, State Attorney Joyce, and former Senator James Hamilton Lewis reviewed the Polish parade from a stand at the base of the Kosciuszko monument. The speakers were John C. Klecka, congressman from Wisconsin, Dr. Francis Stecyk, member of the Polish finance commission, Hugh Gibson, United States minister to Poland, and Prince Casimir Lubomirski, Polish minister to the United States.

President Wilson, Herbert Hoover, and Gen. Plsudski, president of the Polish republic, sent telegrams to the gathering.

TODAY'S EXERCISES. Members of the G. A. R., Spanish war veterans, and American Legion men will hold services in ninety-three cemeteries in Chicago and neighboring towns today. They will decorate and salute over the graves of the dead.

The annual Memorial day parade will be held in Michigan avenue during the afternoon. As the starting gun is fired at 3 o'clock, 5,000 trained voices will sing "The Star-Spangled Banner."

In the Suburbs. Memorial trees are to be planted at Lake Front park, Evanston, by the Fort Dearborn chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Residents of Winnetka assembled in the community square yesterday afternoon and planted memorial trees. The program was in charge of the Women's club of Winnetka.

Golf club along the north shore, from Evanston to Lake Forest, will officially open their season today with special events on the links and dinners and dances in the clubhouses.

FIFTEEN-YEAR-OLD GIRL VANISHES. Fifteen-year-old Esther (niece) of 411 Central street has disappeared, her parents called the police yesterday. They think she is with a boy.

EPICUREAN TREAT. Because man must eat to live, says Savarin, he is invited by appetite and recompensed by pleasure.

Yet, no matter how urgent the appetite, only the gentle art of cooking can make the pleasure complete.

WASHINGTON NEWS IN BRIEF

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING

[Washington Bureau of The Tribune.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 30.

Reviewing a slowdown of business in many lines, the federal reserve board doubts that recent retail price slashing, or anything short of increased production, will reduce the cost of living permanently. With business affected by unsettled conditions of labor and rail transportation, the board has decreed the observance of caution by the banks in extensions of credit.

PROFITING in the packing industry during and since the war is charged by W. Jett Lauck in a statement submitted to the United States railroad labor board and denied for Swift & Co. by L. F. Swift, president.

SEYMOUR JOHNSON is the most popular presidential candidate in the Republican race, according to Angus M. Sweeney, his campaign manager, who, in a letter to every convention delegate, quotes the primary returns to prove that his candidate could carry the country. In addition it raises the direct issue on the suffrage question by claiming that Mrs. Hebert cannot sit as a delegate from Louisiana in the Republican national convention because women can't vote in Louisiana. If they can't vote, how can they be elected to represent voters? Is the question asked.

TO PICKET CONVENTION.

Washington, D. C., May 30.—[Special.]—The National Woman's party has decided to carry its suffrage fight to the Republican convention in Chicago.

It will send a delegation to picket the great gathering of the party and to buttonhole every delegate in favor of votes for women. The delegation will include, among others, these prominent women: Miss Alice Paul of New York, Mrs. Abbie Scott Baker, Miss Elsie Hill, of Connecticut, and Mrs. Frances Bayard Hilles of Delaware. The tactics pursued in Washington will be repeated in Chicago besides which the women promise some new and surprising methods.

SUFFRAGE ISSUE INTRUDES SELF INTO CONTESTS

Question Voteless Woman Delegate's Rights.

The suffrage question will intrude itself in the hearings of contests before the Republican national committee this week.

It arises because a "voteless" woman has seized upon sufficient political power to make herself a political leader in a great state and dictate the naming of a delegation to the Republican national convention.

The woman is Mrs. Clarence S. Hebert of Louisiana. With Victor Loisel and Frank C. LaBat she controls the "lily white" faction of Republicans in Louisiana. She used this control to have herself elected as a delegate at large from Louisiana to the convention.

Opposed by "Black and Tans." The faction to which Mrs. Hebert belongs is opposed by another which is generally referred to as the "black and tan" faction, because it permits the negro Republicans of the state to share in its deliberations.

This faction is contesting the entire delegation from the state selected by the "lily whites." It makes various charges against the regularity of the proceedings of the "lily white" convention, from which, it claims, its representatives were illegally excluded.

Denies Her Rights. In addition it raises the direct issue on the suffrage question by claiming that Mrs. Hebert cannot sit as a delegate from Louisiana in the Republican national convention because women can't vote in Louisiana. If they can't vote, how can they be elected to represent voters? Is the question asked.

Opposite the cemetery is a thickly wooded knoll on which were hidden the German batteries that drenched Belleau Wood with mustard and chlorine gas by night and high explosive and shrapnel by day.

Old Glory at Half Mast.

Old Glory and the French tri-color, together floated at half-mast from flagpoles. Every grave bore a wreath with crossed French and American flags thrust in the earthen mound.

Simple services marked the ceremony. Abbe Combe, a French priest, prayed for the souls of the fallen. Gen. Count Ollone, a descendant of Lafayette, representing the French army, and the American chaplain, John Wadsworth Breittington, read brief eulogies. Doughboys from Coblenz and a Marine squad from the Paris embassy fired three volleys over the graves. An American bugler sounded taps. Then, the first drops of the threatening thunder storms pattered on the mounds and the guests, including Anna Gould, Duchess Talleyrand, clanked into their automobiles.

Services at Ploisy.

The services in Ploisy cemetery were held under a brilliant sky and with the ground covered with flowers. A stirring address was delivered by Gen. Frank Parker, one-time commander of the 1st division, which has 600 men buried there. Gen. Mangin of the French army also was a speaker.

"We were united in war and in life. Let us remain united in peace and in death."

The local French priest, Abbe Raymond, made a prayer recalling the affection of the French children for the dead soldiers.

The school children of Ploisy stood listening, gravely intent, with their arms laden with flowers. At the conclusion of the services they laid their childish offerings on the graves of their dead friends.

Aged Woman Mourns.

An eighty-year-old French woman walked miles to the cemetery with poppies and daisies she picked along the roadside. Four of her sons were killed in the war. Tears were streaming down her wrinkled face as she laid the flowers on the unmarked grave of an American.

"His mother would have wished it so," she said brokenly.

At Juvigny like scenes were enacted. Four hundred and ninety graves of thirty-second division men were cared for by Anne Morgan's committee on the devastated regions. At the conclusion of the services a handsome wreath was placed on graves in the local cemetery as a tribute from Americans to their comrades in arms. At Romagne in the Argonne the greatest ceremony occurred over the graves of 23,000 Yankees. A number of regular United States Infantry attended all the big ceremonies and fired volleys over the graves. The committee achieved its aim, that all graves should have floral decorations, flags, and personal homage.

The Talk of Paris.

Paris tonight is talking about today's European wide events as the greatest demonstration in honor of battle dead ever staged in the world. Throughout England the ceremonies proceeded without a hitch at all places where Yanks are buried. The most impressive services were held in London. Telegrams from Italy brought word of successful conclusions of all program there. All our dead in Belgium were especially honored. Graves in Portugal were decorated.

The American Memorial day committee is convinced that not a single American grave was unattended. The committeemen are most grateful for the tribute of all allied papers and their great cooperation in raising over 600,000 francs, making service possible and leaving a good surplus for next year's fund.

LONDON, May 20.—Memorial day was celebrated in the United Kingdom by decoration of all the graves of American soldiers, sailors and marines with wreaths of American flags.

The American Legion London post undertook to make the decorations, the American society, the American Women's club, the American University union, the English Speaking union and the American club cooperating. The decoration funds were received from the American Legion in America and the Y. M. C. A., the money being obtained through the joint memorial day committee and The Chicago Tribune Memorial day fund.

A Memorial day service was held in St. Margaret's church, Westminster, official church of the house of commons, for officers and men of the United States army and navy who fell in the war and lie buried in the British isles. Graveside services were held in the larger cemeteries at Manchester, Liverpool, Glasgow, Winchester and the islands of Mull and Islay, where the graves of those lost in the Lusitania and Strano troopship disasters are situated. Also the graves of the Lusitania victims in Queenstown cemetery, Ireland, were marked in a like manner.

IN BERLIN

BERLIN, May 20.—The graves of David Gallon of Brooklyn, a private in the 106th infantry, and Adolf John Schulz of Somers, Mont., of the 308th infantry, buried at Hazenfeld, in the outskirts of Berlin, were decorated today by the American commission here. A brief address was delivered by Ellis Loring Dressel, the head of the commission. Both men had been wounded in the early autumn fighting.

G. O. P. GETS CURE FOR HIGH FEVER OF GEN. HI COST

These Two Lines Not Long Enough for Details.

New York, May 30.—The high cost of living committee of the Republican party's advisory committee on policies and platforms today announced that a successful attack on high prices must include a vigorous avoidance of further inflation in our government borrowings and a deflation of credit and contraction of currency, plus public economy and private thrift.

Increased production of goods and services and a revision of taxes were mentioned in the committee's report as necessary to bring prices to lower levels.

Governmental and individual extravagance, coupled with the 50 per cent depreciation of the dollar, due to the gross expansion of United States currency and credits, was named by the committee as being responsible for present prices. Helen Rogers Reid acted as chairman of the committee and Albert Shaw as vice chairman.

Want Higher Mental Test.
In the report tendered by the immigration committee, of which Congressman Frederick H. Gillett, speaker of the house, is chairman, it was urged that a higher mental and physical test be prescribed for immigrants.

The report stated that the present selective immigration tests were not sufficient and too often allowed an undesirable type of foreigner to enter this country.

A change in the naturalization laws to the effect that a foreigner could not take out citizenship papers unless he had fully and genuinely assimilated the principles of American citizenship was urged.

Should Reform Laws.
Various other ways of bettering the present immigration laws were suggested in the report as the only means of producing that type of foreign born citizen who can take his place in American life with an intelligent grasp of the fundamentals of his new national duties.

It was also pointed out that more logical measures should be provided for the Americanization of foreign born women.

PHYSICIANS URGE A LENGTHY REST FOR DESCHANEL

The president, therefore, will leave Paris within a week for some country place where he can rest in peace.

The president expects the cabinet to come to his country residence occasionally, but his friends are seeking to relieve him as far as possible of all work.

The newspapers, commenting today on the condition of M. Deschanel, say that he is extremely fatigued. Prior to the recent accident, he worked many hours a day and far into the night in order to carry out his desire to reform all callers and keep abreast of change.

FRENCH TROOPS KILL 1,200 TURKS IN AINTAB DRIVE

Kemal Dickering for Peace with Gouraud.

BY LARRY RUE.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

(By Special Cable.)

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 29, via Paris, May 30.—It is reported here that the victory of the French at Aintab has broken the opposition of the Turkish Nationalist army to France's occupation of its specified region in Asia Minor.

The Aintab defeat, after a bitter, bloody and prolonged struggle, has taken from the Turks considerable of their moral. Also they must use what guns they have left against the British and the Greeks.

1,200 Turks Killed.

It is said negotiations for peace between the French and Turks now are near.

The second French column, which took Aintab, killed 1,200 Turks, and has not yet been able to count the wounded. The Turks had artillery outranging the French seventy-five, but they were unable to train them effectively on the advancing columns.

Ultimatum to Feisal?

Increasing banditry in Syria against the French is expected shortly to force France to send an ultimatum to the Feisal government, it is learned from authoritative French sources. The French claim 40,000 troops in Syria, with reinforcements on the way.

Simultaneously comes a report that the French and Turks are dickering for a Cilician armistice, the French intending to evacuate. An armistice will release thousands of French troops for a Syrian occupation, although the officials are certain Feisal will get some support from the Turks irrespective of any agreement.

Red Alliance Discussed.

A change of Red policy from the internationalists to the nationalists is dampening Mohammedan enthusiasm for the bolshevik movement. The Reds and Mustapha Kemal, however, are now negotiating on a joint near east policy.

Enver Pasha's wife has been receiving letters from her husband dated Baku. It is understood Enver is not commanding an army, but is conducting propaganda.

The slogan here seems to be "Wilsonism or Bolshevism." Acceptance of an Armenian mandate now would involve the United States not only in the Turkish imbroglio but in the Russian question, Armenia being hemmed in from the south by nationalists and from the north by bolsheviks.

WOOD EXPENSES REALLY MODEST, SAYS SPOKESMAN

A statement dealing with the campaign expenditures of Gen. Leonard Wood was issued yesterday by Henry S. Hooker, member of the Leonard Wood national campaign committee.

"The people of this country passed certain primary laws which necessitated substantial expenditures, he said. "Whether these laws are wise or not we do not pretend to say, but as long as they are on the statute books large sums are necessary if an honest attempt is made to carry out their spirit in bringing a candidate's qualifications and record before the nation."

"The Leonard Wood campaign committee has spent less money than any other, taking into consideration the latitude and breadth of its campaign."

"It only regrets that it has not had more funds at its disposal to make known the career of its candidate. Thousands and thousands of Americans—members of the Leonard Wood league—who risked their lives for their country in the great war, are giving their time and money to nominate the man the nation needs. They know that their effort in this campaign is as worthy as the effort that they made in France, and they have no apologies to make for either."

ITALIAN BILL PREVENTS KING DECLARING WAR

ROME, May 30.—The government has presented to parliament a bill which would amend the law regarding the declaration of war and the conclusion of treaties. The bill stipulates that the government would not have the power to declare war without previous consent by both chambers of parliament, although it would be permitted to retain the power to take urgent measures for defense.

Every treaty or international agreement, according to the bill, must be communicated to both chambers, provided the interests or the safety of the state are not in danger. All treaties of alliance, arbitration, peace or commerce, or treaties involving expenditures or relating to the property of Italians abroad, or the property of foreigners in Italy, would be effective only after ratification by both chambers of parliament.

Italy Levies New Tax on Exported Works of Art

ROME, May 30.—A new tax on the exportation of antiques and works of art is to be levied to secure additional revenue.

RED ARMY BUILT ON MODERN PLAN, 1,500,000 MEN

BY COL. HENRY J. REILLY.
(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

(By Special Cable.)
BERLIN, May 30.—The bolshevik army bears the same relationship to the old imperial Russian army as the French revolutionary army does to the French royal army of that date, with one essential difference. The French royal army was a small one, composed of professional soldiers whose only aim was their regiment. Therefore it remained a becoming foundation for the great enlargement of the conscript revolutionary army. Ultimately the army was composed of the nation in arms. The army controlled by the first revolution was different from the majority of these men. It was fighting to return home. In the following months large numbers went home. This difference is of the utmost importance from the viewpoint of morale. The revolutionary armies were composed of a mass of men imbued with revolutionary spirit, with their fighting mostly in the future.

The Red Army.

The Russian revolutionary army, with the exception of the young men reaching the military age since the revolution, is composed primarily of men who had fought three years and were war weary when the revolution came. The essential question is, are they imbued with the revolutionary spirit to the extent that that war is forgotten? Is the desire first to defend and then to propagate revolution by force?

Professional noncommissioned officers existing in large numbers in the large imperial army, who mostly remained, profited through the wholesale appointment of officers and often gained commissions, sometimes commissions of high rank. The most noted of the old Russian officers now in the bolshevik army is Gen. Brusiloff, the only Russian general of any consequence never defeated in the great war. Even during the czar's regime he was known for his liberal tendencies. It is an interesting fact that Denikine, was one of his principal under-commanders throughout the war.

In addition to the Russians, the bolshevik army contains numerous foreign elements. There are numbers of German officers and enlisted men, mostly Lettish, Ukrainian, and Chinese brigades serving as mercenaries and volunteers. The Ukrainian brigade passed over to the Polish army without firing a shot at the beginning of the present operations.

The bolshevik army gives captured enlisted men a chance to join their army. Captured officers are shot. Consequently there are many deserters and captures of former soldiers from the Denikine, Yudenitch, and Kolchak armies.

1,500,000 in Red Army.

The exact number of the bolshevik army is not definitely known. The minimum figures given by the most careful estimators is a million and a half. The maximum number reported on the Polish front at the time of the March offensive was 500,000. The balance was engaged in finishing Denikine on the Baltic, on the central Asian frontiers, and in the interior of the country. The strength is maintained by universal service. Therefore five to six more millions would be obtainable, if the necessary armament and food supply existed. One report gives the total bolshevik force throughout Europe and Asiatic Russia at 5,000,000, but it is incompletely armed and equipped.

The Poles report the bolshevik replacement system is excellent. All losses, including the large numbers of deserters, promptly are replaced.

Trained by Russian System.

The army is trained according to the Russian system modified by war experience. Two army corps of six or seven infantry divisions compose the field army. A division has two brigades of infantry, each of three regiments, each of three battalions. Each infantry battalion has three companies of 150 men each, and one company of twelve machine guns.

Each division has nine batteries of light field guns and three batteries of medium howitzers. All battalions have four guns. Accompanying batteries are used considerably. The result is the maximum benefit of their artillery is seldom gotten, due to too much dispersal. Their armament is mostly Russian plus foreign equipment. Mostly English, acquired from Yudenitch, Kolchak and Denikine.

Morale Often Bad, Often High. If the morale of the whole bolshevik army is similar to that of the Twelfth army, entirely destroyed by the Poles on their advance to the Dnieper, the morale is poor. After the first resistance was broken large numbers of this army surrendered when overtaken without really fighting. No real stand was made until the Dnieper river was crossed. Then the stand was not by them, but by fresh troops who also attacked the Kiev bridgehead.

Some of these were isolated and a Chinese brigade north of Zitomer refused to surrender, resulting in only seventy being taken prisoner. The personnel of the Russian battery near Zitomer fought with small arms after the Polish infantry got its battery. The whole question depends upon whether or not the damaged morale, due to poor leadership, poor food, and the presence of civilian commissars with the regiment, may be overcome by confidence in real leadership like that of Brusiloff.

We Remember

STRONG is the nation that pauses in its material tasks to turn its thoughts to the lofty and the spiritual.

Our heroes of the Civil War, and the Great War, died for an ideal; and that ideal must burn in all our minds, find entrance to all our hearts.

Our tribute of recollection spreads today across the seas. On the fields of France garlands are strewn upon the graves of our heroic dead.

In our own land, on tombs sacred to the names of Liberty and Union, the blossoms of a grateful people are spread in proof that we remember.

It is for us to hold true—particularly so in these times—to the same spirit which animated the boys of 1861, of 1917.

(Weekly Letter to Sales Department)

The time has now arrived for you to advise the customers of this firm to purchase vacant property for the very good reason that vacant property is the only thing we know of that has not suffered price inflation and before long, when building materials are reduced to a price that warrants construction on a large scale, vacant lots must necessarily advance, by reason of their shortage and the great demand that will follow. In the meantime, houses and apartment buildings have reached such high prices that relief must be found in the construction of new buildings and the same demand for homes from an increased population which has brought about these conditions in the improved property market must shortly increase vacant property prices through increased demand for building space.

There is such a tremendous shortage of houses that as soon as the financial condition of the country warrants, we will face the greatest building boom in history. The people must have places to live and places in which to do business. There is today a limited amount of vacant property on transportation that is available for building purposes and until our street car situation is cleared up, which may be years from the appearance of things now, there will be no extensions of carlines and therefore no increase in the number of available lots can be expected to take care of even the ordinary increase in our population. To say nothing of the tremendous shortage occasioned by some four years of inactivity in building.

Please impress upon your entire selling organization that it is the advice of this firm that the present owners of vacant lots are in excellent position to reap a profit from their ownership within a very short time and please have them advise all the customers of this firm to invest their money in vacant lots or tracts, near good transportation, in preference to any other form of investment.

DOMINION NEAR FOR IRISH, SAYS AUTHOR OF PLAN

Sir Horace Plunkett
Agrees with Greenwood.

BY JOHN STEELE.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
(By Special Cable.)
(Copyright, 1920: By the Tribune Company.)
DUBLIN, May 29.—[Delayed.]—Prospects of a dominion settlement of the Irish question are brighter than ever before, is the considered opinion of Sir Horace Plunkett, founder of the Irish Dominion League and leader of the moderate Irish nationalist opinion. Sir Horace told me this this evening at his beautiful home in Kiltiragh, near Dublin, in intervals of a round of golf, and his opinion is borne out by a statement made to me a few days ago by Sir Hamar Greenwood, chief secretary, who said the Irish could have any settlement they would agree on short of separation from the British empire.

Can't Crush Irish.

Sir Horace's opinion is based on the theory that as each successive effort to find a settlement short of a dominion status proves unworkable, the British are driven more and more toward the only acceptable scheme, which is entire national independence. He also marks the fact that leading Sinn Féin leaders are showing a disposition to consider the dominion plan, at least as a step on the road to final independence. "One thing is certain," said Sir Horace, "and that is that Britain cannot continue to govern Ireland by martial law. That leads nowhere. It means piling soldiers on soldiers, sending more and more, and there is not the remotest chance of breaking the spirit of the Irish people by military oppression."

Big Part for Labor.

Moreover, I am convinced labor is going to play a great part in the Irish settlement. It already has demonstrated its power in securing the release from Mountjoy prison of the hunger strikers and stopping the uncontrolled exporting of food from Ireland. From that it is only a short step to enforcing the national demands. "I am more hopeful of an early settlement now than I have ever been. Events are working in favor of Irish aspirations."

Nitti's Plea to Postpone

Spa Conference Denied
LONDON, May 30.—The Spa conference will take place on the previously appointed date, according to the report forwarded to the London Times by its Paris correspondent. Although Premier Nitti of Italy asked for a postponement until July, the French and British governments, the correspondent declares, are in agreement that the June date should be adhered to.

TROUSSEAU LAID AWAY AT QUICK CALL TO WAR TO BE USED NOW

MISS ELSIE E. HENNIG.
RAY L. KRANZOW.

When Attorney Roy L. Kranzow, 4154 Kamerling avenue, was within an hour or two of the appointed time of his marriage over two years ago, he received a quick call to report at Fort Sheridan.

Here was a quandary. All arrangements had been made for his marriage that day to Miss Elsie E. Hennig, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Hennig, 2501 South Crawford avenue. He made a quick trip to the home of his expectant bride-to-be and told the story of his sudden call to arms. Miss Hennig told him to be off; that she would pack her trousseau and await his return from the war. Eventually Mr. Kranzow returned to Chicago after serving in France with general headquarters, "G. 2." So that is why on Wednesday Miss Hennig will unpack her bridal robe and the couple will be married at St. Andrew's Evangelical church.

IRELAND'S RAIL WORKERS WON'T MOVE SOLDIERS

British Worry as Unions
Take New Stand.

(Chicago Tribune-New York Times Cable.)
(Copyright, 1920.)

LONDON, May 31, 3 a. m.—An important cabinet meeting is to be held today to consider the situation in Ireland. Premier Lloyd George will preside and Lord French, the lord-lieutenant; Sir Hamar Greenwood, the secretary for Ireland; and Sir Nevill Maccready, the commander in chief there, will be present.

Ban on Troop Traffic.

The question of how more troops are to be dispatched to Ireland also has arisen. It is calculated that there are now about 50,000 troops in Ireland and several more battalions are under orders, but Irish railway workers refuse to handle trains carrying troops or munitions.

The Daily Chronicle's political correspondent hears it is not at all likely the triple alliance (British labor unions) will support the action of Irish union workers in refusing to move trains laden with munitions or soldiers.

Trades Congress to Aid.

BELFAST, Ireland, May 30.—The Irish trades congress has promised its full support to the Dublin railway strikers. This may lead to a repetition of the deadlock which occurred over the hunger strikers.

The announcement was made at a meeting of the National Union of Railwaymen by Mr. Farran, president of the Irish labor party and trades union congress. Mr. Farran said the executive committee of the labor party had decided that the fight should not be left with the railway men and dockers, but that it should be taken up by the whole of the working class of Ireland.

Among other things the cabinet will have to make other arrangements for the transportation of munitions, military stores and troops, as the Irish dockers and railway men have refused to handle them.

Raiders Burn Barracks.

(Chicago Tribune-New York Times Cable.)
(Copyright, 1920.)

DUBLIN, May 30.—When a majority of the inhabitants of Louth, near Dundalk, were attending devotions, a party of armed men entered the village and proceeded to destroy the vacant police barracks and a house used as a petty session court. Other houses caught fire, and the entire row was demolished.

When the villagers came from church scouts held them up, and several men were compelled to fetch spare oil for the work of destruction. "Some of the raiders wore masks, and all are said to be strangers to the district. The raiders commandeered a quantity of petrol. They occupied the village for an hour."

Customs Office Burned.

CASTLETOWN, Ireland, May 30.—

The Berehaven customs office was destroyed by fire this morning. An adjoining steamship office had a narrow escape from a like fate.

More Troops Are Landed.

QUEENSTOWN, May 30.—The Cameron Highlanders, recently ordered for service in Ireland, disembarked here today through the streets to their huts. Guns and ammunition were transferred from the steamer to an admiralty trawler, which with a number of troops proceeded to Cork.

Seize All Newspapers.

DUNDALK, May 30.—A dozen armed men today seized all newspaper parcels from Dublin and burned them. A policeman attempted to intervene, but was disarmed.

People Drive Away Raiders.

BELFAST, May 30.—Early Sunday a party of armed raiders in automobiles visited Gully Packey, County Antrim, and started to burn the police barracks. The raiders fled, however, when the villagers turned out in a body to oppose them.

Mail Train Is Held Up.

SKIBBEREEN, May 30.—A mail train from Bantry to Cork was held up at Durrus Road station by armed men today. The men took the mail bags and escaped.

GERMANY SETS TEN BILLIONS AS MOST IT CAN PAY

Holds Cards Tight for the Opening Play at Spa.

BY PARKE BROWN.
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
[By Special Cable.]
BERLIN, May 30.—If, as reported, the Spa conference is postponed until June 21, Germany will ask the conference to extend its authority to maintain an army of 100,000 until the conference meets and agrees upon this matter.

One reason why Germany is not anxious to see the meeting delayed is the fact that under the present restrictions it is not allowed to maintain an army exceeding 100,000 after July 10. One of the proposals the government has intended to present to Lloyd George, Millerand, and their associates is a continuation of the present armed forces on the ground that it is necessary for public order, particularly since the new Weimar constitution has been ordered, but June 21 is the latest date after which arrangements can be made for halving the army.

Silent on Spa Plans.
For obvious reasons the government is keeping most secret its plans for financial discussions at Spa. While no secret statements might be made, it is to state in advance just what the big staff experts have to say concerning the country's ability to pay reparations, this work is in the charge of members of the old staff who do not intend to show a single card before it is played.

It is known the Hythe proposal of 100,000,000 will be opposed by some of the members of the old staff, but when it comes to discussing the counter figures the officials will not even admit Germany's ability to pay 10 per cent of that amount without substantial changes in the economic provisions of the treaty.

100,000,000 Maximum.
The closest thing to an actual estimate of Germany's ability to pay today from August Mueller, former undersecretary of state in the ministry of economics, who said the maximum figure must be the estimate of Prof. Keynes—40,000,000 gold marks, instead of the 120,000,000,000 marked at Hythe.

Herr Mueller said the proposal by

FIGHTING IN ASIA MINOR

1—A French army has driven into Aintab, relieving the town and putting the Turks to rout. Aintab is a strategic point north of Syria which the French are holding to deprive the Turks of a base from which to launch attacks against the French sphere.

2—The Bolshevik announce that they do not intend to carry war any farther into Persia than Encei.

FILIPINOS FIGHT INCLUSION UNDER U. S. SHIP LAWS

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
[By Special Cable.]
MANILA, May 30.—Extension of the American coastwise shipping laws to the Philippines is causing much discussion. Foreign and Filipino controlled governmental interests naturally are opposed and intend to cable protests to President Wilson. Advocates of Filipino independence foresee in the measure a result of a closer economic union, thereby detrimentally influencing their aspirations for early independence. Unprejudiced conservative Americans welcome extension of the coastwise shipping laws as strengthening the position of American maritime commerce on the Pacific and in the Orient, provided sufficient shipping accommodations are made available.

TREASURY CASH DAMS JAP TIDE OF BANKRUPTCY

Papers Censored; Many Workmen Laid Off.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
(By Special Cable.)
TOKIO, May 29.—(Delayed.)—The financial resources of the Japanese government have been thrown into the "crisis" which has been shaking the business life of the country. The government has been providing millions to the banks to check the run of bank suspensions.

There is a marked bettering of conditions in some ways.
Censorship on Press.
The police have placed the news papers and other publications under a rigid censorship, forbidding the printing of sensational reports of the financial situation.

However, many industries continue to lay off large numbers of employees. The reports so far for May show that the failures have been $10,500,000; and sixty others are bankrupt. Dealers in chemicals and dyes have been the hardest hit. The surviving dye works are sternly reducing their staffs.

The shipyards report there are no new orders, but that they have received many cancellations. Many yards are laying off men. Sales of new ships are reported low.

Private Fortunes Pledged.
The directors of the Seventy-fourth bank of Yokohama have promised to turn in their private fortunes, if needed for the liquidation of about $25,000,000 deposits. The collapse of the bank had been held off by government aid for three weeks. However, the government investigators discovered the widespread speculative nature of the correspondents and withdrew its support. The crash was immediate, pulling down in the mêlée the Bank of Yokohama, the Yokohama Commercial bank, and a number of minor institutions. A run threatened the Soda bank of Motomachi, but government aid probably saved it.

The inability of the speculators to meet their calls spread throughout the financial districts, resulting in the closing of the silk exchange in Yokohama, the rice produce exchange in Tokyo, and the Tokyo and Osaka stock exchanges.

Safe in Armour Branch Office Robbed of $2,000

Andrew Hinger, watchman at the branch office of Armour & Co., 1301 North Leavitt street, discovered that the safe in the office had been blown open when he went to work last night. The police were told the safe had contained nearly $2,000.

GERMAN LEADER HOLDS TREATY SCRAP OF PAPER

(Chicago Tribune-New York Times Cable.)
(Copyright: 1920.)

BERLIN, May 30.—Dr. Reinhold Saxon, minister of finance, made the following amazingly frank statement: "The league of nations, of which I hope Germany is going to become a member with equal rights, must be a league for the rebuilding of the world. In that connection, it is impossible for us ever to come to terms with the peace of Versailles. For us Versailles exists only as a chain which we must break."

In the course of his speech Reinhold also gave away completely the foundations on which hopes are built by those who believe the Versailles peace can be regarded as "a scrap of paper."

Okuma Anxious to Conclude

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
(By Special Cable.)
TOKIO, May 29.—(Delayed.)—The new ambassador has been called back to Japan by the government.

Okuma Strong for the League of Nations

Marquis Okuma, leader of the opposition, is more than ready to view the peace treaty, especially in the light of the recent developments.

Without such an alliance, there is danger hereafter. This is a criticism of the Bolshevik threat to the Anglo-Japanese alliance.

The agreement to the redress of Japanese wrongs is a necessary condition for the peace of the world.

The necessity is not only for contracting parties, but other powers responsible for the world's peace.

Would Like America to Preserve Peace

America vitally is in preservation of peace in the world. It is not yet known how the Monroe Doctrine is actually to be maintained.

British residents in the Pacific state the superior training German designers and was constantly a peace and war. Maintaining an alliance is an imperative.

TRAIN STRIKES PICNIC PARTY AUTO; 2 KILLED

Dentist and Doctor's Wife
Are Victims.

Dr. Doris Borwick, a dentist, 2538 North Kedzie avenue, and Mrs. Belle Drowoski, 1658 West Roosevelt road, were killed yesterday when their automobile was struck by a passenger train, four miles west of Valparaiso, Ind. Their car was one of four carrying a picnic party to Flint Lake, Ind. It had become separated from the other cars.

MRS. BELLE DROWOSKI

Theodore Drowoski, husband of the dead woman, returned to Valparaiso, where he was notified of the accident and identified her body. Others in the party were Dr. H. G. Oshman and family, 1909 East Division street; Dr. and Mrs. Zan D. Klopfer, 1442 West Division street; Mr. and Mrs. Max M. Korzak and family, and Mrs. Joseph F. Goudolt.

Four injured: Two May Die.
Two persons were injured when a motor truck collided with an automobile at Curtis and West Lake streets yesterday. Leo Brock and his sister, Mrs. Frances Dovanmable, 838 South Ashland avenue, were injured internally and may die. George Fennier, 1701 Ladin street, and Eleanor O'Leary, 1641 Ogden avenue, were slightly injured.

George Sobata, 1642 South Loomis street, was arrested on a charge of assault after witnesses had testified the motor truck was traveling forty miles an hour. He told his employer, David Makier, that he had merely wanted to give some friends a joyride.

Auto Kills Man.
A man described as Abraham Weissman, address not known, was killed yesterday by an automobile drive by William Flupowski, 2136 Haddon avenue, who was held.

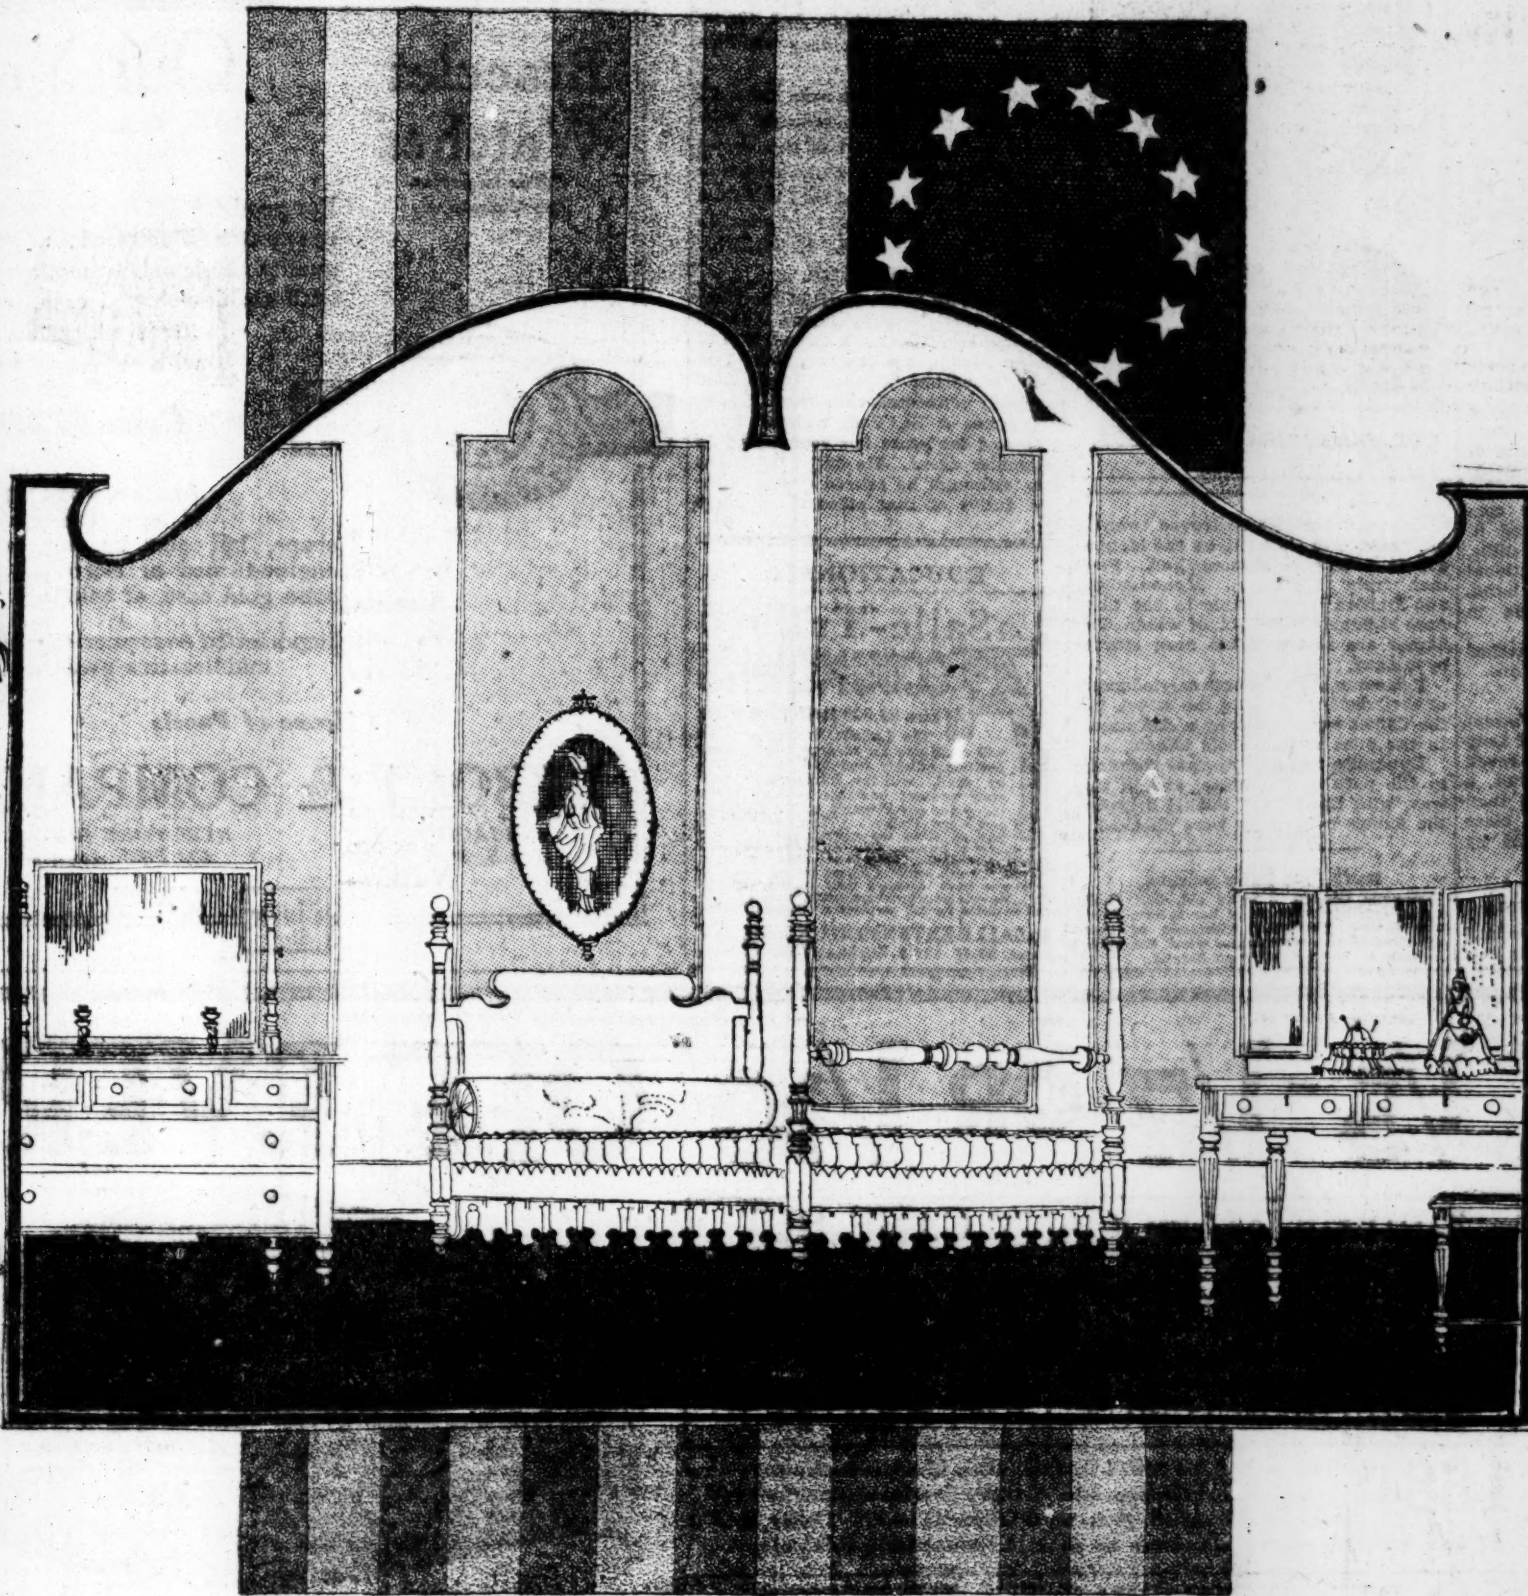

Oscar Harris, 79 years old, 740 Washington boulevard, was seriously injured by the automobile of A. T. Johnson of Chesterton, Ind. Johnson was held.

Six year old August Lucas, 1523 Plak street, fell from the running board of an automobile and suffered a fracture of the skull. He will live, physicians said.

"ROOKIES" FROM CAMP UPTON GO ON CHAUTAUQUA
Washington, D. C., May 30.—(Special.)—First hand evidence of the work of the new army in the Americanizing of foreign born recruits and the education of illiterate American born citizens will be presented to cabinet members, congressmen, and department chiefs next Thursday evening when a group of thirty-two soldiers from the recruit educational center at Camp Upton demonstrate how they learned to handle the English language in less than six months. The performance will be staged under a chautauqua tent erected near the base of the Washington monument. The performance will constitute a first night performance of an all summer chautauqua tour, which the detachment will make.

John M. Smyth Company

Established 1867

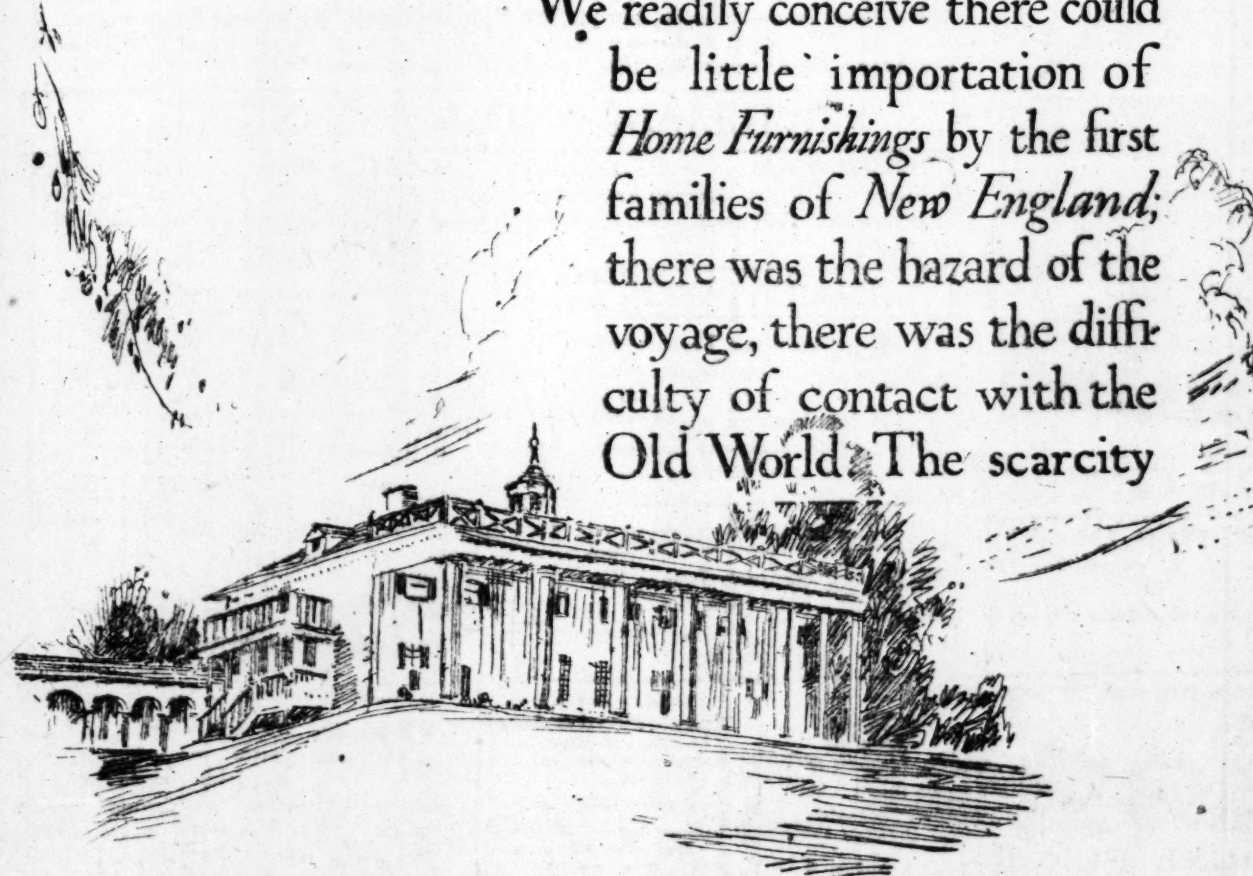

It is, admittedly, a fact, of course, that the first American Cabinet-makers must have mastered their art in the old world; certain distinguishing features gave their first creations the aspect which the student of Furniture Art distinguishes as of "Colonial Design" but after all Colonial Furniture was simply Furniture that was made in the Colonies.

We readily conceive there could be little importation of Home Furnishings by the first families of New England; there was the hazard of the voyage, there was the difficulty of contact with the Old World. The scarcity of tools and materials was no doubt responsible for the "ponderous" aspect of early Colonial Furniture. And so "Colonial Period" became "American Period"; "Colonial Design" became "American Design." The "Periods of Kings" could come and go but the great "American Period" had come to remain forevermore and the Furnishings that are offered to you now are of American Materials, of American Design, Manufactured in America, by Americans whose hearts throb with the Spirit of American Citizenship handed down to them by the Veterans that died that America might live.

In continuance of our Period Furniture Series, this is number nine.

PLAN TO "TRIM" CHICAGO COMES UP THIS WEEK

Calls for 173 Members of Illinois House.

BY OSCAR E. HEWITT.

Springfield, Ill., May 30.—[Special.]—There is more than ordinary political interest in the decision of the downstate delegates to the constitutional convention to trim Chicago this week while she is entertaining visitors to the national Republican convention. The delegates are inspired by righteousness to trim Chicago's representation in the general assembly and cite as evidence that the Chicago Church federation, and also the Anti-Saloon league, have endorsed the plan. To an outside observer the inspiration looks as if it came from a greed for political jobs. The new plan, prepared by Delegates Rinker of Carlinville and Mitchell of Aurora, will be submitted to the committee on the legislative department Tuesday. It calls for a house of 173 members instead of 153 as at present.

Twenty Nine New Jobs.
Cook county's representation remains as at present, while the twenty-nine new jobs as legislators are distributed among downstate counties. Each county is to get one representative, and the representation of each county is fixed by any apportionment and not be hereafter reduced, according to the text of the proposed section 7.

It so happens that forty-nine of the counties of Illinois had less population in 1910 than they had in 1900, and regardless of how much they decrease in population their representation tion will remain stationary. According to the 1920 census Fayette county has grown exactly ten persons in ten years. Clarke county by the current census has decreased about 2,800 persons.

Not a "Chaplain's" Plan.

Under the plan each county is to have one additional member of the house for each 50,000 population, with the apportionment in 1921, but this "unit of representation shall be doubled at each succeeding apportionment." So that in 1931 a county must grow 100,000 to get an additional representative, 200,000 in 1941, 400,000 in 1951, 800,000 in 1961, and so on.

Two counties downstate are credited each with less than 5,000 population. Each will keep its representative even if it declined to 4,000 population in 1961, while Chicago at that time can have 799,000 increase and will be denied an additional representative in the house. Surely the chaplains were not instrumental in getting the "wisdom" which evolved that plan.

Scheme for the Senate.
In the senate, Cook county is to have nineteen members and downstate thirty-two. The text says that "the basis of senatorial apportionment shall be the number of electors who voted in the last regular election at which a governor was elected previous to the apportionment." That scheme is to run within a minute of eternity unless Illinois has a new constitution. Its basis is voters rather than population.

The whole plan also trims fast growing counties downstate such as St. Clair, Madison, Peoria, and La Salle. That indicates a little trouble.

Advance word arrived today that between 500 and 600 teachers will be in Springfield Tuesday to urge the adoption of a section recognizing pensions.

Vanderlip and Banking Party Return from Japan
San Francisco, Cal., May 30.—Frank A. Vanderlip, president of the International Banking corporation, and a party of financial and other leaders, arrived today on the liner Corea Maru from Japan, where they went to discuss international matters with Japanese leaders.

MEAT PROFITS CUT HEAVILY INTO INCOMES

Packer Swift Answers
Economist's Report.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)
Washington, D. C., May 30.—(Special.)—In this present period of high prices and profiteering, one-sixth of the income of the average consumer goes for products controlled either directly or indirectly by the big packing interests.

This statement is made by W. Jett Lauck, consulting economist for the railroad labor organizations, in a survey of alleged profiteering in the packing industry submitted to the United States railroad labor board and made public here today.

"The average American family," said Mr. Lauck, "has been contributing during and since the war period from $300 to $500 a year to swell the gross returns of the big five meat packers, namely, the Swift, Armour, Morris, Wilson, and Cudahy companies.

Profits Over 200 Per Cent.

"While wages paid by these concerns increased 75 per cent and the value of products only 100 per cent, the profits increased from 300 to 400 per cent, not only in dollars but also in rates of return on investment, during and since the war.

"The precise amount which the rapacity of these big interests is costing the American public is not ascertainable but they now have under their control meat products, poultry, fish, eggs, milk, butter, cheese, canned vegetables, canned fruits, canned fish, cottonseed oil, soap, leather, sugar, and other necessities of daily life, while their grip is fastening upon cereals, vegetables, and groceries. Moreover, the big five stand in real financial relationship with 700-odd corporations whose extortionate profiteering has contributed largely to the present financial distress among the working people of the nation."

Calls Ads Misleading.
Mr. Lauck, characterized as misleading, the widely published advertisements and propaganda of the packers conveying the impression that their profits amounted to less than 2 cents on each dollar of sales, equivalent to a return of 2 1/2 per cent on net worth of capital stock and surplus combined.

"No business man," he declared, "except for publicity purposes, even thinks of profit but in terms of rate of return on investment. Twenty-six per cent is extortionate profiteering, however reasonable may appear the packers' heavily contrived statements as to return per dollar of sales. There are enormous profits, running into many millions, from subsidiary companies, such as stockyards and by-products plants, held by dummy stockholders. These profits go directly to the principal stockholders of the big five."

Gives Packers' Side.

L. F. Swift, president of Swift & Co., when asked to comment on Mr. Lauck's statements, said:

"Swift & Co. has no part in the present controversy in which Mr. Lauck is engaged. However, his statement unfortunately recites certain inaccuracies from the federal trade commission report which we feel called upon to correct."

"A rate of 2 per cent on sales does not yield 2 1/2 per cent on net worth, as claimed by Mr. Lauck. It has yielded Swift & Co. only about 11 per cent on capital employed. This is not profiteering."

"It must be remembered that wages, profits, supplies, freight, taxes, interest, and all other expenses amount to only 18 per cent of our sales, and that we pay out about 85 per cent for our raw material."

Lose Grocery Business.

"If a family spent $300 a year, which is above the average, for larger packers' products, less than 7 cents a week would be net profit on the basis of Swift & Co.'s 1919 earnings."

"Mr. Lauck says that we control canned goods and other grocery products. He ignores the fact that the large packers, in competition with each other, handled only 3 or 4 per cent of the groceries of the country, and even this small percentage has now been taken away by court decree."

"We control the price of no commodities. Swift & Co. is in open competition with every other packer, and we handle less than 15 per cent even of the meat supply of the nation."

"The charges that we spent the profit to wreck competitors and that we padded expenses under cost-plus contracts during the war are untrue."

"The United States food administration reported that while they were under its supervision the profit of the five large packers on meat food products was only 1.76 per cent on each dollar of sales and only 5.6 per cent on the capital employed."

"It is unfortunate that Mr. Lauck relied on the old reports of the federal trade commission, which previously have been disproved in detail."

PLAGUE WEARY EUROPE TIRES OF D'ANNUNZIO

Jugo-Slavs Will Battle the War Mad Poet.

(Chicago Tribune-New York Times Cable.)

PARIS, May 29.—Once more Plume comes to plague weary Europe. Following the seizure of several Jugo-Slav villages outside of Plume by D'Annunzio and his troops, the Belgrade government has notified the allied governments that it will resist with armed force any further efforts of the poet-adventurer, and has called upon the allies to put an end to the escapade of D'Annunzio, as it constitutes the danger of war.

Ready to Battle.
At the headquarters in Paris of the Jugo-Slavs it was said this afternoon that if D'Annunzio takes control of Sussak, which is actually occupied by the Italian regular troops, the Jugo-Slav troops would chase him into the sea.

"We have had enough of this man and his doings," said a Jugo-Slav spokesman. "If the Italian government does not calm him down, we will act. Our patience is at an end. It is true that M. Verrier, premier, is a deliberate liar, but he cannot resist the pressure of public opinion."

Jugo-Slavs Excited.
In French official circles action of D'Annunzio in further exciting the Jugo-Slavs is regarded as a serious business. No news was received today

PORTUGUESE BOY FINDS HARD GOING IN U. S.; HE SEEKS BROTHER

Private John Nunes Gomes, medical corp., Fort Sheridan, and his 16 year old brother, Antonio Nunes Gomes, employed by the Red Cross at the fort, yesterday appealed to THE TRIBUNE to aid them in finding their brother, Joseph Nunes Gomes, last heard from at New Bedford, Mass., five months ago. Antonio wants to find him because he desires financial aid and a brother's advice.

JOSEPH NUNES GOMES. Antonio landed in America from Portugal a few months ago penniless. The Red Cross helped him to get to Chicago and through his brother at Fort Sheridan he obtained employment on the estate of Mrs. Cyrus H. McCormick. The McCormick gardeners, however, said Antonio couldn't understand the English for "work," and, as he couldn't talk Portuguese, Antonio was about as valuable a helper as a South Sea islander. The Red Cross at the fort undertook to teach Antonio English and so did the soldiers. The result is that Antonio now has a vocabulary of seven words, none of which are used in polite conversation. That's why the Red Cross thinks he needs an older brother. Joseph is said to have switched his around to Joseph Nunes Gomes.

development of the poet's declaration that he would seize Sussak this morning, but his mad brain is at work again. It is admitted that there is no knowing just what wild enterprises the poet and his army will undertake.

End of Price Decline in Sight Public Advised to Buy NOW!

Women particularly are urged to buy their Summer Apparel while present low prices prevail!

George Bernards takes a unique stand in behalf of the public in the fight against the H. C. L.

For the past few weeks it was possible for this store to purchase Spring and Summer apparel at prices that enabled us to greatly undersell—prices that helped our thousands of patrons to lower the H. C. L. Due to a backward season, scores of manufacturers found themselves loaded with merchandise that would have found ready market had the weather been seasonable. And as the unfavorable weather caused a depression in retail sales, this depression naturally reacted on the wholesale market. Retailers throughout the country refrained from buying new merchandise until they disposed of their former stock. Accordingly as the new apparel accumulated it was offered by manufacturers at ridiculously low figures, hence the drop in prices.

This store was quick to take advantage of this opportunity. Thousands of dollars' worth of smart new Spring and Summer apparel was secured at prices that meant remarkable savings to our patrons. Our first sale of this merchandise was advertised 24 hours before John Wanamaker's noted reduction was flashed across the country.

Now that the season is fully under way, most of the surplus stocks of the manufacturers have been purchased. The demand once more begins to exceed the supply. There will be fewer opportunities to purchase at great losses to manufacturers, prices must therefore surely, steadily climb again—just as certainly as they advanced before.

The purpose of this advertisement is to direct attention to this extraordinary sale of merchandise that was secured while the market was slack. These fashionable Suits, Dresses and Coats, at the prices quoted, mean tremendous savings—savings that certainly should inspire every woman to buy now—NOW—before prices start to soar again.

"GORILLA" LUBY SCRAP? 7 POLICE WILL SAY HE CAN!

Bad Man's Fists Topple Over Bluecoats.

In those sections where Frank Luby is best known—the northwest side and the Joliet penitentiary—men speak of him as "the Gorilla." He's a hard, bad man, they say, and what he could do to Jack Dempsey and Georges Carpentier together wouldn't be nice to say.

Yet it took only five policemen to bring him to the West Chicago avenue station last night, and only seven to put him into a cell.

"The Gorilla" was standing at Robey and Division streets yearning and yawning for excitement. Word came to the police that a man was insulting women in that vicinity.

Detective Sergeants Christopher Hughes and John Onthank were quite friendly about it. They said they were sorry, and all that, but Luby would have to come with them to see Acting Captain Tom Duffy.

"Gorilla" in Playful Mood.
Luby was friendly about it, too, and put his hand playfully on Onthank's face and hurled him half across the street. Hughes hit Luby on the jaw, and Luby didn't like it.

He didn't think that was anything nice for Hughes to do. It hurt his dignity, he felt, so he sent Hughes after Onthank.

The detectives recovered their wind, but not their poise nor their caution. They rushed, and Luby, swinging his long arms and laughing to show he was quite dispassionate, tumbled both of them back into the street.

At a time one of the two wielded a blackjack. Luby took it away from him.

"I eat them for breakfast," he said. Hughes drew his revolver. So did Onthank.

"Put away them guns," said "the Gorilla." "or mamma'll spank naughty detectives."

And He Wouldn't Go Along.
Hughes and Onthank couldn't shoot a man who stood and laughed at them. And they couldn't hurt him. And they didn't know what to do. He said he wasn't going with them, and he meant it. So the detectives sent for the wagon.

Now, behold the "Gorilla" fighting Hughes, Onthank, Anton "Rooney" Larson, Mike Quigley, and Jacob Brown, veteran battlers all. The "Gorilla" liked it.

I've licked two of youse," he shouted, "and I can lick all of youse."

He broke into the next few minutes, stout hickory clubs not intended to be broken. He ripped coats and crushed helmets, and brought color to the faces of his two opponents, and threw one revolver half a block or so down the street.

His Slip Disastrous.
What might have happened to the five detectives can only be guessed had not the "Gorilla" slipped and fallen. The five battlers fell on their knees, and when they had got their breath one of them got a rope and tied the "Gorilla's" hands behind him.

They got him into the patrol, but as they had no rope with which to tie his legs he kicked out the sides of the patrol wagon and barked most of the six shins within his reach. He couldn't reach the shine of the driver, nor those of the man who sat upon his neck.

The fight in the cell was brief, but more intense, and involved, as well as the original five, the desk sergeant, the operator, the lockup keeper, William Fitzgerald—who was knocked out "cold"—and one or two others, including the acting captain.

Original Five Winded.
The original five, however, lent little strength to the combination that finally placed the "Gorilla" in his cage. They hadn't much strength left to lend.

"Leave him in the cell," ordered one of the patrol wagon and barked most of the six shins within his reach. He couldn't reach the shine of the driver, nor those of the man who sat upon his neck.

"Mama's Affair" at the Court

BY PERCY HAMMOND.

MAMA, in "Mama's Affair," is far from a well woman. No actual maladies infect her hale, if not robust person, but her fancies and her inclination inform her that she is prey to all the ailments, contagions, indispositions, and infirmities from adenoids to a fitful appetite.

Moreover, she is one of those particularly maddening hypochondriacs—the sort that smiles as she deplores her diseases, chatting of her symptoms with a sweet and spurious patience. She tells her disorders as the novice tells her beads, early but with a tinge of heart-break. Her pulse is ever ready to the physician's touch; she thrives upon the intricate pills, and always around her is the delicate aroma of the more fragrant of the alteratives. If a man enters her presence she holds out her tongue automatically. So eager is she in her devotions to her imaginary derangements that the doctor has to wait for her to mention a sickness with many vowels in it, so that he may push the thermometer between her opened lips. Shall we loathe this impossible lady—especially since the chief victim of her persecutions is her pretty, self-sacrificing daughter, aged 15? The poor little girl is a sad bondswoman to her parent's comfortable hallucinations.

No; not so long as she is played, as she is played at the Court, by Miss Effie Shannon, that inimitable comedienne (who looks younger and handsomer than I have ever seen her) and who covers with the charm of an almost imperceptible satire, such irritating, pathological outbursts as might otherwise cause you to seek the help of Miss Shannon is good at the nuptial and "Mama's Affair," being a Harvard play, has its nuances. Though you may grieve at the pitiable plight of her pale, nerve-wracked, devoted and self-sacrificing offspring, you say, "Don't kill her for a minute; she's going to make us smile."

Furthermore, it is easy to bear with Mama's chronic morbidities, because they bring together at the end Miss Ida St. Leon, rather a blessed half ingenue, as the daughter, and Robert Edeson, as the shrewd and upstanding physician, who, called to mend the mother, heals the child with his romantic canopies. The instant he sees the two together he knows who is the invalid and who the distemper, and he sets about to save the young woman from a nervous grave. In the first act Miss St. Leon performs—I presume one may say, "performs," since she is the most radiant of the circus queens—without rouge. Later she appears, aided by the beneficent paint-pot, proving by the improvement that Mr. Ziegfeld is wrong, all wrong.

Miss St. Leon's first attack of hysteria is real, but her second is counterfeited, because by that time she has learned to love the village doctor and to abhor the grotesque individual to whom her mother has engaged her to be married. He is one of those fantastic stage males whose hips wag as he walks and whose like, one hopes, Miss Rachel Barton Butler, the author, did not see around Cambridge when she was learning dramatics from Dr. Baker at Harvard. This fellow, I suspect, may not be included among the Harvard nuances. The comedy is very thin and "clever," and it is worth every cent of the $500 prize that the munificent Morocco paid for it.

"Mama's Affair" is acted by an astral cast, including those above mentioned, Miss Amelia Bingham as a sentimental housekeeper, and Miss Katherine Kaelred as a singsong and good looking shadow of Miss Shannon. A smart little mannikin named "Little Billy" adds considerable pep to the proceedings, playing a diminutive bellhop. The Sunday nighters seem to like it.

1,500,000 LBS. OF SUGAR CAUGHT IN FREIGHT JAM

Dealer Predicts Drop in Price Soon.

While the retail price of sugar hovers just above 30 cents a pound and dealers protest a shortage, nineteen cars, holding about 1,500,000 pounds of sugar, are stalled among the congested freight on the Illinois Central tracks within Chicago.

The railroad admits the sugar cars have been in the vicinity of Chicago for two weeks, most of it having been shipped from New Orleans a month ago. The switchmen's strike is responsible for their nondelivery, according to freight agents.

The sugar is consigned to fourteen concerns, four of which are involved in the government's investigation of sugar profiteering in November, 1919, and one, Bunte Bros., candy manufacturers, was the subject of an investigation in March.

Expected Drop in Price.
Peter Kasper of Durand & Kasper, wholesale sugar dealers, said last night he believed this week would see a drop in the price of sugar.

"A number of concerns are loaded up with sugar and if they hold it much longer waiting for people to buy it will ruin them," he said. "Then I have heard that there is a sugar car on the way here, and that will bring the price down."

Sugar sold Saturday around 27 cents a pound wholesale, although I heard of 30 and 31 cents being offered. Some have come to us asking for a carload of sugar, but we wouldn't sell a carload to one man. We apportion it out to our customers."

Advices Use of Strip.
With the fruit canning and preserving season at hand, Health Commissioner Robertson, in his weekly bulletin, recommends that housewives make use of corn sirup, honey, and malt sugar sirup for baking, cooking, and preserving. All these have a high sweetening value, he points out, and "their increased use as substitutes would be pretty certain to bring sugar prices back to something near a normal level."

He also advises that vegetables such as green beans, pumpkin, squash, asparagus, spinach, pieplant, etc., be dried and stored for winter use.

THINK DR. BERRY, 103, HAS GONE TO EARN OWN LIVING

Dr. Harmon Berry, 103 years old, deserted by friends and relatives, has gone away to "make his own way in the world"—such is the belief of the Cottage Grove avenue police who have been searching for him since Wednesday, when he disappeared from the home of Mrs. Mary J. Reynolds, 2358 Indiana avenue.

Two years ago the doctor is said to have given up his home at 4345 Grand boulevard, and went to live at Mrs. Reynolds' rooming house. After a time, she asserts, he was in debt to Mrs. Reynolds $400.

"It hurt the old man terribly," said Mrs. Reynolds yesterday. "He used to slip in and out, avoiding me as much as possible. Then he told me he had saved two Liberty bonds and that he would sell one and give me some money. He never did it, though."

THE INQUIRING REPORTER Every Day He Asks Five Per- sons, Picked at Random, a Question.

Today's Question.
The question is not what should be done with Gene Garry, but what will be done with him.

The Answers.
CHARLES A. HOLMES, 5317 Higgins avenue, a contractor—If they arrest him and bring him to trial and I am lucky enough to be on the jury I am sure plenty will happen to him. I'll bet he'll never show another man.

EDWARD J. POWERS, Chicago avenue police station, a detective sergeant—He will probably be picked up and he'll have an alibi, but I think it will be pay day for him.

L. C. JOHNSON, 2331 North Richmond street, a bookkeeper—I believe if Garry is found guilty of this murder he should be dealt with accordingly.

FRANK MEIER, Winnetka, an insurance broker—He's been lucky. But it may turn. You know luck doesn't go on protecting a man forever.

ROBERT WERRY, 1077 Montana street, a salesman—It depends on how strong public opinion is and how strong his political drag is.

Reject the resolution and vote to submit a state suffrage amendment to the voters of Louisiana next November; or Kill all suffrage legislation.

Schenectady, N. Y., May 30.—Selection of candidates for state officers to be voted on at the next general election and a fight over a plank in the platform touching on prohibition occupied the greater part of today's closing session of the convention of the American Labor party of New York state.

Two women were given places on the ticket. Miss Rose Schneiderman of New York was nominated for United States senator and Mrs. William J. Flinn of Catskill for state controller.

The platform committee recommended a plank providing for local option on light wines and beers. This brought a storm of protest. The committee finally substituted a plank favoring the submission of prohibition to referendum. This was unanimously adopted.

Resolutions were adopted demanding that the American government "refuse support to Poland or any other country which is attacking Russia and resume free trade relations with Russia."

RAIL OUTLAWS' DEMONSTRATION DIES A-BORNING

Boasted Coup of Saturday Proves "Flivver."

An attempt by John Grunau, president of the Chicago Yardenmen's association, and Harold Reading, leader of the United Englishmen's association, to stage another outlaw rail strike in Chicago yesterday failed.

The strike, it is said, was to be in the nature of a demonstration with a view to forcing the new railway labor board to recognize and treat with the outlaw unions. This board, it is reported, will hand down a decision on the railway wage case some time in the coming week, and Grunau and Reading hoped by the new demonstration to gain credit for any new increases granted, as well as to install their organizations in and out the railway brotherhoods from a controlling position in the railway labor circles.

Evidently, however, Grunau and Reading overestimated the strength of their following. The only roads affected thus far by the threatened walkout of firemen and engineers are the Chicago Junction, the Chicago and Alton, and the Soo line. A total of 250 are said to have quit work.

Denies His Men Quit.
George Hanauer, vice president and general manager of the Indiana Harbor Belt line, in signed statement issued yesterday, denied reports that his employees had walked out.

"That statement issued by Reading regarding the strike of our firemen and engineers is absolutely untrue," the statement reads. "The fact is that the 'outlaws' had set the time at 9 a. m. May 29, for a general walkout of firemen and engineers employed by the Belt line. Only a few men responded to the call, and to date less than 10 per cent have left the service. Every run has been covered and service is progressing as a matter of course. On Saturday our line moved 3,916 cars, the largest number handled since the strike of the yardmen."

Saturday Reading prophesied that by last night 15,000 railroad workers would have joined the strike. Outside of the three roads in Chicago, there were no other reports of walkouts.

Merger of Organizations.
Some time ago negotiations were started for a combined organization. Then the charter of the Chicago Yardenmen's association was opened, and a clause inserted by which any railway employee could be announced as a member of the organization. A new emblem was adopted and plans for a national movement toward the new "One Big Union" arranged.

To achieve publicity the new walkout was said to have been decided upon as a "grand stand" play on the eve of the railway labor board's decision.

A large majority of the C. Y. A. members are progressing as a matter of course. On Saturday our line moved 3,916 cars, the largest number handled since the strike of the yardmen."

DOWN AND OUTER WINNING MASCOT FOR NEW CHAMP

Article II.—How Johnny Wilson broke training the week before his championship battle to save a dog.

BY EYE WITNESS.

Charlestown, Mass., May 30.—[Special.]—The pie scandal that broke in on the regime of Johnny Wilson's training for the championship battle with Mike O'Dowd came up today when Harry Kelly was saying that Johnny was a good boy and an earnest worker; so faithful, indeed, that if let alone he'd work himself to death. It was for that reason that on a day during the three weeks' training when Kelly thought Johnny was looking a little stale, he turned him out of the gym in the barn at Bedford and took him back to the woods and kept him there until three or four days before the fight.

Pooch Donovan Protege.
That's how profoundly Kelly, who used to be a trainer at Harvard under Pooch Donovan, who is still there, believes in outdoor training. Two days before the fight he eased up all training, and so took his man into the ring fresh as a daisy.

"In fact," he said, "everything went fine, and I'll say the hardest work I had was to keep him from eating cake and pie for breakfast."

"Yes," said Johnny, "that was the morning Harry declared himself and said, 'I'm captain here.' We call him captain ever since."

"So I was," said Kelly. "He can't argue with me. With his wife he can get away with it. She says 'as long as he's in this house he can have what he wants,' but she means his flat at 6 Cordis street, Charlestown, Mass., and not the place out at Bedford. I'm boss there."

Won't View Fights.
"Has A. Johnny ever seen you fight?" I asked the champion.

"It's funny you asked me that question," said he, "because the answer's funny, too. She's seen two hundred fights, I suppose, in the Frawley law days in New York, but never me. She won't even watch me in exhibitions."

Kelly interjected, "I think she'd want to see him get hit. She loves a fight at that."

Wrestles Big Sandbag.
After this domestic interlude we got back to training methods at Bedford, and Johnny said that so far as indoor work is concerned, the main thing is the big sandbag, the two hundred pounder. Ketchell was strong for it, too, and so is Jack Dempsey.

"It's a dead weight," said Johnny, "and a hell of a work, and the big value in it is that you can't stall. You got to keep moving. After two or three rounds with the big bag I shadow box and then work with the light bag. It's good for your eye. Then come three rounds of callisthenics—bending and stooping exercises, you know. It's good for the stomach."

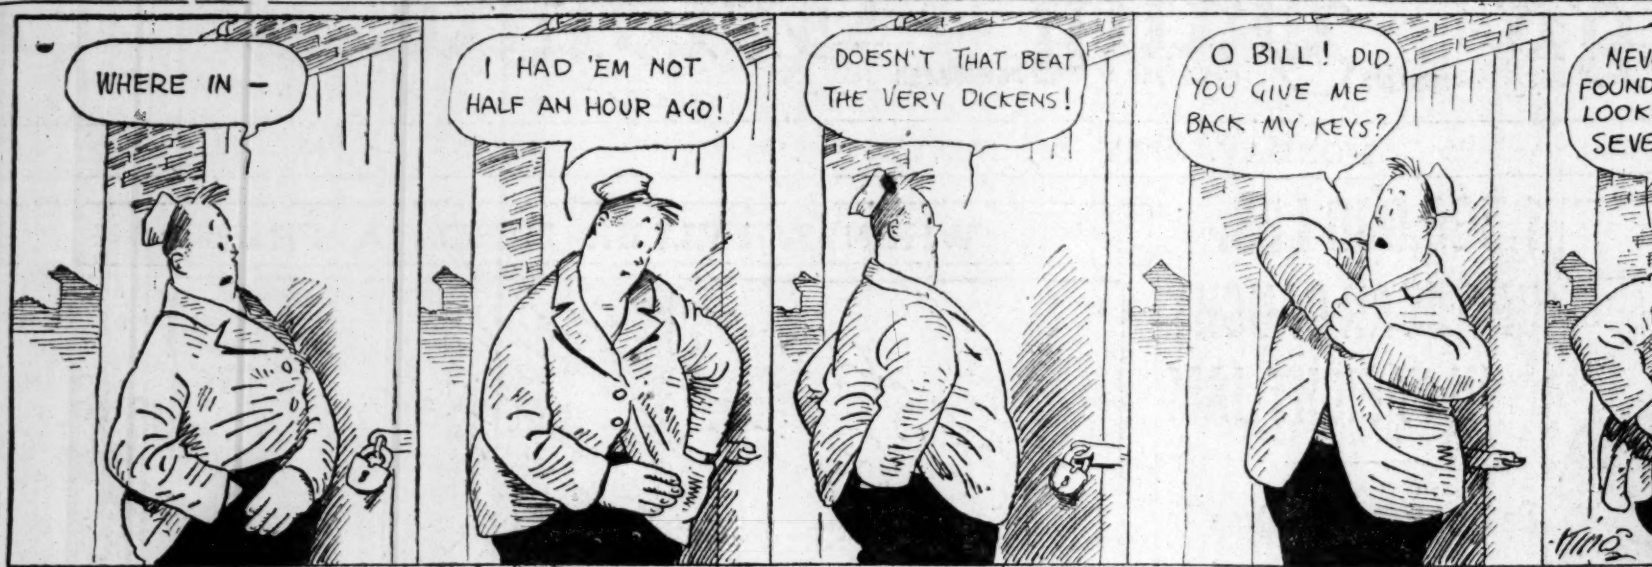

Like Jack Dempsey, Wilson thinks sleep is of the highest importance as a builder and, like Dempsey again, he wants a good nine hours. After the 6 o'clock supper he walks a while and reads a while and is in bed between 9 and 10.

K. He says he likes to read a while, we've got quite a case of "voracious reading."

"He reads Roosevelt's stuff, too," said Kelly.

"Yes, and we put it over for Roosevelt."

PAUL QUIRK VICTOR IN 15 MILE CONTEST OF ROLLER SKATERS

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

Paul Quirk of Lightning A. C., a scratch racer, yesterday won the fifth annual fifteen mile handicap roller skate race of the Opal A. A. over streets of the southwest side. Quirk crossed the finish line two minutes ahead of George Kodat of Opal A. A., and covered the distance in 1:16:00.

Johnny Takes the Pup.
The dog's name was Leo, a full blooded, wire haired Irish terrier, with a wild streak in him that so worried the Bedford farmer and his wife, who owned him, that one morning last month, when Johnny Wilson was doing his ten miles over the dirt roads around Bedford, Leo was led out to die.

Johnny took the pup. "Don't shoot!" screamed Johnny, taking in the picture with staring eyes. The farmer looked up, Leo wagged his tail, and the gun was not fired.

"I don't want to kill him," said the farmer, "but he's wild, and some day he'll do some child around here a mischief."

"Will you give him to me?" Johnny asked, "if I take him away?"

"I will," said the farmer, and Leo was saved.

Thereupon Johnny Wilson, pugilist, with the battle for the middleweight championship only a week off, did the very wrong thing of breaking training to travel twenty-five miles into Boston to deliver that dog at the door of Representative Greene and get the promise of the representative's mother that she would look after Leo until after the fight at least.

Panned by Manager.
The comment of Johnny's manager, Marty Killewa, when he encountered his fighter toward evening in Boston was, "And you broke training a week before your fight with the champion to bring a dog into town! Now, you get back to camp quick, or I'll get a gun and do some shooting that'll surprise you."

His real name is Tommy Mackin, and Johnny saved him by the very human, very simple and beautifully tactful method of first rigging him out and then making him feel important and today Tommy Mackin knows that Johnny Wilson won't put on a glove until he sees him in the house. When their eyes meet Tommy gives Johnny the wave, and the fight begins.

"Johnny Wilson made Tommy Mackin feel he meant something to somebody," said Representative Greene, "and that saved him, and that's why I say Johnny Wilson's got the grace of God."

MIKE MEYER HURT BY CAR.

25 SPEED KINGS RACE TODAY FOR RICHEST PURSE

Indianapolis, Ind., May 30.—The stage is set for the eighth renewal of the 500 mile automobile race at the Indianapolis speedway tomorrow, when speed stars of four nations will match their skill for racing supremacy and the lion's share of $85,000, the richest purse in the history of auto racing. Twenty-five drivers are scheduled to face the starter.

Gossip of the race crowds shows De Palma a strong favorite, although Howard Wilcox, Rene Thomas, and Jules Goux, the French drivers who have competed in former races here, are counted dangerous contenders.

SOUNDS TOCSIN FOR PREP NINE TO PLAY GOTHAM

President H. L. Ray of the faculty board of athletic control of the Chicago Public High School league is heartily in favor of bringing together the champion high school ball nines of New York and this city in a game here for intermetropolitan supremacy.

Ray will poll the leading teams in the four sections of the city high school league and institute a campaign of intensive baseball drill through the regular coaching channels, in order that whichever local team finally is selected will be fit to represent Chicago.

The plan approved by Ray for bringing the New York boys here is that of having twenty leading citizens or firms underwrite the estimated expenses of $2,000 pro rata. The Tribune and Chicago Nationals already have agreed to be among the twenty.

The New York High School of Commerce in all likelihood will be the nine to face the local "preps." Commerce already has won the championship of Manhattan island, and the opposition from the other Greater New York interscholastic divisions—Brooklyn and Queensborough—does not seem strong enough to stop the Commerce boys.

Cubs' park has been offered for the battle between the interscholastic champions by President W. L. Veeck for either June 19 or June 26.

SOCIETY and Entertainments

First Polo of Year Is Holiday Feature at Onwentsia Club

There will be practically no house parties on this Memorial day, for society is too busy making preparations for convention visitors to have house guests. If the weather is nice, the country clubs will be the mecca of the majority of people. This evening many of the clubs will be formally opened for the season with dinners.

Glen View Golf club, which was to have had its opening today, is minus a clubhouse following a fire Friday night, so there will be no dinner-dance this evening, but luncheon for the golfers will be served in a large tent erected Saturday.

At Onwentsia there will be golf competition, and at 3:30 o'clock the first polo match of the season will be played. Those who will take part are B. M. Rader, Prentiss Connelly, Laurence Armour, Garrard B. Winston, George A. Seaverns Jr., William Mitchell Blair, Albert B. Dewey Jr., John Borden, Earle H. Reynolds, William V. Kelley Jr., Paul Butler, Col. Gordon Johnson, and Gen. McCoy. Tonight there will be a dinner-dance.

At the Onwentsia dance Saturday night Mr. and Mrs. Ralph M. Foote of Lake Bluff entertained a party for Mr. and Mrs. Abram Poole.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Ryerson, Mr. and Mrs. Sisson Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Fred T. West, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Carpenter Jr., Mr. and Mrs. John T. Pirie, Mr. and Mrs. Ezra J. Warner, Mr. Edward A. Russell, Mrs. Hugh Patrick and Miss Patrick, Dr. and Mrs. R. J. DeLoach, Mrs. Charles D. Norton of New York City, and Mrs. Richard Millard of Birmingham, N. Y.

Among the clubs that will have their formal openings today are Bob O'Link, Evanston Golf, Westmoreland, Flossmoor, Lake Shore, and Midlothian. Onwentsia and Indian Hill club were opened a week ago Saturday, and the Chicago Golf club at Wheaton and Exmoor Country club last Saturday.

There will be a special program, starting at 3 o'clock today, at the Country club of Evanston. Tonight there will be a dinner-dance. The Chicago Yacht club will be opened with a dance at 8:30 o'clock tonight.

No special entertainments have been planned for the Saddle and Cycle and the Casino.

An Irish and peony show will be held by the North Shore Horticultural society, associated with the Garden club of Illinois, at the Gorton school in Lake Forest on Saturday, June 19, from 11 in the morning until 10 in the evening, and on Sunday, June 20, from 1 o'clock to 10. The Garden club members who are cooperating with the Horticultural society are Mrs. Walter S. Brewster, Mrs. Albert A. Sprague, Mrs. Hugh J. McBride, Mrs. J. M. Patterson, and Mrs. C. Morse Ely.

Miss Marion Scott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Scott of 1214 Astor street, sailed yesterday for England with Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hardy.

Children's Day Puts Fitting Climax to North Shore Festival

BY W. L. HUBBARD.

The north shore May festival ended with two capacity audiences, making the afternoon and evening of Saturday the climax of a week of exceptional music making and exceptional patronage.

Mr. Lutkin and his forces—which include not only his various choral organizations but Mr. Stock, the Chicago Symphony orchestra, the soloists, the assistant conductor, and last, but not least, the managerial staff—deserve thanks and hearty commendation of music lovers for the smoothness, precision and comfort with which the festival was carried out.

The matinee Saturday was children's day, and was radiant with the happiness that distinguishes such occasions. The stage overflowed with little folk, and the spirit with which they sang, the spontaneity, the freedom from self-consciousness with which they gave both text and tune, raised their work to high level of enjoyableness, and made them in many respects the best feature of the entire festival.

Could this younger generation but keep the vocal freshness and the enthusiasm until it becomes the festival chorus of ten years from now, would there be the public of that day would hear.

Mr. Osbourne McConathy was the conductor in charge of the youthful singers, and accomplished finest possible results with them. A new setting of the Twenty-third Psalm by Mr. Lutkin was also sung under the composer's direction, and proved a melodious, euphonious composition, which deservedly found favor.

The soloist of the afternoon was Margaret Romaine, who in an aria from Massenet's "Cid" and in a group of songs established herself firmly in the liking of audience and chorus. Her voice is a soprano of fine, true quality, well schooled and effectively used, and her interpretative powers include charm, grace, and agreeable dramatic power.

In the evening the adult chorus, the orchestra, and Edward Johnson were the attractions, giving a miscellaneous program which, while somewhat long, overbore interested and aroused enthusiasm. One of the high points of the evening was the motet, "How They So Slightly Rest," by William, sung by the Capella choir with such loveliness and purity of tone quality, such finesse and taste in shading, and such fine appreciation of spirit, that an additional number was unavoidable.

The orchestra under Mr. Stock covered itself with glory, the raised platform for the first time in the festival improving the tone quality and power, and giving enhanced richness to the playing.

Mr. Stock's "Hymn to Democracy" presented with the new choral ending was the closing selection. The voices add more in the humming effect introduced in the middle of the work than to the actual climax, which is orchestraally so massive that the singers lend merely another tonal quality rather than the forcefulness of actual words.

Mr. Johnson sang six operatic arias and "If with all your hearts," from "Elizah." He was in splendid voice, and gave it with his accustomed prodigality, which, while it may rouse the groundlings, can but make the judicious mourner. The voice is so fine and so admirably schooled that his indulgence in the oversteering and the operatic exploding of tones which are in vogue in Italian opera houses of the present day are unnecessary. He sang the oratorio except faultlessly, and the audience felt the true spell. He could do the same with his opera arias if he but observed the same moderation.

Yesterday afternoon, in the Illinois theater, Mme. Marie Yung's ballet gave a program of dancing before a capacity audience. Twenty numbers, besides the ballet from "Aida," were presented, and displayed the abilities of the young women in enjoyable, praise-worthy light.

A Friend in Need Sally Joy Brown

Wants a Ukulele.

"I am a stenographer 18 years old and have been longing for the last couple of years for a ukulele and I wonder if any one has one they do not want any more. I feel rather guilty at asking for such a frivolous thing as a ukulele when most of my Cornettes are asking for necessities, but I would surely enjoy it and cannot afford to buy a new one just now. I would gladly call it also.

"We'll ask the readers, and who knows. You make the possessor of the sweet-toned ukulele soon.

LOAN STOCK MARKET SHOWS BIG IMPROVEMENT

BY MANFRED EMANUEL.
(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
(By Special Cable.)
LONDON, May 30.—Conditions in the loan market are steadily improving in tone after the recent flood of liquidation. The market for stocks in general has been more cheerful feeling has spread throughout the stock exchange. While the support given has been more than sufficient to absorb the speculative liquidation, the market remains on a small scale and no improvement can be expected until the budgets are out of the way. The next few days will show whether the war market is to be imposed, and whether excess profits duties are to remain at 40 per cent or be increased to 60. The uncertainty in this connection is still hampering all commercial and industrial development to an activity. The monetary situation still causes uneasiness. The government is to pay dividends on June 1. The market will therefore have to borrow again, and the response for the new treasury bonds remains negligible. On the other hand, confidence in government securities should improve conditions in regard to bonds. Interest has been diverted from stock shares towards foreign exchange to a few days, and market fluctuations in the rates of market, foreign exchange, have been overvalued in many cases, hastened to cover and the rates finally but advanced again, there being no justification from the monetary movements for the improvement in the value of francs or the mark.
